Put it all together to get the right things done right for children and families.

Module I: Head Start/Early Head Start Grant Basics

Structure and Organization of National Head Start/Early Head Start Program

- The Head Start and Early Head Start Programs are administered by the Office of Head Start (OHS), Administration for Children and Families (ACF), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS).
- Grants are awarded by the ACF Regional Offices including OHS' two newest Regions: Region XI serving American Indian/Alaska Native populations and Region XII serving Migrant and Seasonal Farmworker populations.
- Grants are awarded directly to local public agencies, private organizations, federally recognized American Indian and Alaska Native Tribes and school systems for the purpose of operating Head Start and Early Head Start programs at the community level.
A Little Bit of History...

- Project Head Start, launched in an eight-week summer program by the Office of Economic Opportunity in 1965, was designed to help break the cycle of poverty by providing preschool children of low-income families with a comprehensive program to meet their emotional, social, health, nutritional, and cognitive development needs.

- In 1969, Head Start was transferred from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the Office of Child Development in the US Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and has now become a program within ACYF in HHS.

- Although a well-established, though still an innovative program, Head Start has had a strong impact on community and early childhood programs across the country.

- In 2008, Head Start has grown to serve more than 1 million children, with more than 35,000 classrooms serving 890,000 children. Fact sheets with the most recent funding and demographic information are available on the Act website under "Head Start Program Fact Sheets." Since its inception in 1965, the Head Start program has enrolled more than 27 million children.

Head Start Act and Regulations

The Head Start Act (the Act) authorizes the appropriation of federal funds to specific levels nationally for distribution to local programs.

- The Act spells out the purposes of the Head Start and Early Head Start programs, the types of services to be provided, populations intended to be served, reporting and evaluation requirements, and necessary administrative requirements.

Head Start Regulations have been promulgated in order to implement requirements of the Act.

- The Head Start regulations can be found at 45 CFR Parts 130-133.
- Supplementing these regulations are government-wide grant regulations. Those that apply to Tribal governments can be found at 45 CFR Part 50.

- Head Start and Early Head Start agencies (grantees) must operate Head Start and Early Head Start programs in accord with the requirements of the Act, the Head Start regulations, and applicable government-wide grant regulations.

- It is important for governing bodies, policy councils, and program management staff to be familiar with and to follow these requirements.
Additional fiscal requirements

- OMB Circulars: The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) publishes instructions and information on the management of Federal grants in the form of OMB Circulars. OMB Circular A-87 applies to Tribal grantees.

- Cost Principles: 2 CFR 235 (formerly Circular A-87) establishes principles and standards to provide a uniform approach for determining costs and to promote efficiency, program delivery efficiency, and better relationships between governmental units and the Federal government. The principles are binding and applicable to all costs. They are not intended to identify the circumstances to dictate the intent of Federal and governmental units participating in the financing of a particular Federal award.

The Head Start Act, regulations, OMB Circulars, Cost Principles, and Audit requirements each have the force and effect of law and are mandatory.

Guidance and Policy

- OHS issues policy interpretations to help Head Start programs achieve compliance with various Head Start legal requirements. These recommendations are called Program Instructions (PIs).

- OHS disseminates information relevant to all Head Start programs around the country using Information Memoranda (IMs). IMs serve as guidance and are informational. They provide grantees with recommendations, tools, models, and techniques which may be used for program improvement and development.
Please Note....

The current Head Start Act was enacted in 2007 and the last substantial revisions of the Head Start regulations were promulgated in 1998. Therefore, the requirements of the Act take precedence over what is stated in the regulations.

Basics of Grants Management

A grantee operating a Head Start/Early Head Start program in a given community will continue to receive funding to operate such program for five years grant periods unless:

➢ It is determined such grantee must submit to competition to be designated for an additional 5-year period, regulations for which are in progress;
➢ The Head Start/Early Head Start grant is ended involuntarily (termination) or ended voluntarily (relinquishment).

Section 644(c)(7)(B) of the Act describes special procedures for application of this requirement to American Indian/Alaska Native grantees.

Basics of Grants Management

The Financial Assistance Award (FAA) is the official award document that notifies grantee agencies and others of the award. This document also incorporates the terms and conditions of the award and supports the obligation of funds in the accounting system. The Grants Officer is responsible for preparing, signing and issuing the FAA.
Basics of Grants Management

The Grant Application Budget Instrument (GABI) mirrors the paper application and allows grantee agencies to submit their applications on line. The application can be uploaded directly to OHS. GABI must be used, and electronically submitted for all funding applications.

Basics of Grants Management

- Upon receipt of the FAA document, grantees should verify that the approved budget categories match the submitted budget document for possible changes or adjustments. Changes by the funding agency will generally be noted in the "Comments" section.

- Except for changes requiring prior approval, grantees may transfer funds between and among the key spending categories of the grantee/agency approved budget(s), provided the funds are used for allowable program costs. In other words, where there is no specific prior approval requirement, a grantee has the flexibility to shift funds among budget categories (as long as such shifts do not result in underfunding of critical program activities or change the scope of proposed operations). No transfers may be made that would cause the funds to be used for purposes other than those intended even though the cost is allowed by the Circular.
